

PRESCHEDULING ARBITRATED RESOURCES

Hans Eberle
Nils Gura

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A system includes a plurality of resources and a plurality of requesters. A first portion of the resources are reserved for a particular time period in the system during a first arbitration phase, in response to prescheduling requests. During a second arbitration phase a second portion of the resources are allocated in response to regular requests, the first portion of the resources which are reserved being unavailable to the 10 regular requests.
